

Courage

The courage to stand, the courage to fall.
The courage to live and survive through it all.
The courage to love, the courage to not hate.
The courage to hold and not shatter or break.
The courage to give, the courage to get.
The courage to remember and not to regret.
The courage to shout, the courage for silence.
The courage to sin and seek for repentance.
The courage we have is all that we may own.
Whether we are stable, or whether we roam.
With this God has blessed you,
and your example helps others live too.

By: Natalie A. Thornhill

Dedicated to Uncle Chet.