

Driven

When I drive I give away,
all the worries of my day.
I just relax and drive.

The seat set back, my music loud.
I drive my car, low and proud.
So I just relax and drive.

I have not chosen a place to go.
I am not hurried, I take it slow.
So easy to relax and drive.

I think of thoughts beyond my reach.
Thoughts that are so hard and deep.
No choice but to relax and drive.

Maybe someday I will bring you along,
to share my favorite place and song.
For now I relax and drive.

BY: Natalie A. Thornhill

dedicated to Dustin Hepler.