

Sin

The third day and already most have gone.
Not a big surprise, been going for so long.
What is still wrong when day five comes?
Destruction without knives or guns.
The end of the week brings yet more sin.
Without realizing we go on with a grin.
One week left and none are ready.
Corruption from the inside continues on steady.
Five more days who will believe?
Nothing more than prayer need be achieved.
The last three days prove sadder yet.
People believe heaven and hell to be another bet.
The final day is here right now.
The weeping echoes throughout the crowds.
