

You

I was never one to read love poems,
of picket fences or happy homes.
But now that you have come along,
I could even sing a loving song.
You have brought such joy into my life,
my smile widens at your sight.
The fake love that people always see,
is not within you or within me.
I believe that we have shown a deep truth.
God chose us both, in love through youth.
I want to grow along side of you.
Growing old and still living anew.
When I feel life's painful spree,
I want to have you next to me.
You must be the only one I love.
you do not push, and do not shove.
An emotional high everyday.
That you have taught me not to push away.
